YOUNG CARERS POLICY

PRINCIPLES OF THE YOUNG CARERS POLICY

Avonwood Primary School value the abilities and achievements of all children and are committed to providing the best possible environment for learning. We believe that all children should be equally valued and strive to provide an inclusive setting. We aim to create an environment whereby all children will flourish and feel safe. At Avonwood, we are committed to actively seeking to remove barriers to learning and participation.

Our young carers policy takes account of findings and recommendations given by Barnardo's 'Still Hidden, Still Ignored; Who Cares for Young Carers?' report published in 2017, which emphasises the role and accountability of school staff and procedures regarding provision for, and progress of, young carers. This guidance suggests that schools have a key part to play in the provision of holistic and effective support to young carers, and our Governing Body will ensure that we fulfil this responsibility.

This policy has been produced in collaboration with local experts, MYTIME Young Carers along with our school Young Carer Champions, Katie Sharpe and Jessica Short.

DEFINITION OF A YOUNG CARER

At Avonwood, our definition of a young carer is a child, under the age of 18, who is either the main carer, shares a caring responsibility for, or whose day-to-day life is impacted by someone in their home, which extends to a sibling or siblings, parent, both parents or a grandparent, who has a disability, illness, mental health condition, misuses or is addicted to substances, or is unable to fully care for themselves.

Our definition of a young carer extends to include any child who holds a significant caring responsibility for a sibling.

Aims for Young Carers at Avonwood Primary School

- To improve the progress and raise the standard of achievement for young carers
- To address any underlying inequalities between young carers and other children
- To raise awareness of young carers among staff and to ensure the identification of all young carers as early as possible
- To foster respect and understanding towards young carers

- To ensure that young carers have equal opportunities to be as involved as possible in school activities
- To ensure that young carers feel included and supported within their school community and that reasonable adjustments are made to promote this
- To ensure that young carers are involved in discussions and decisions affecting young carer provision
- To ensure that young carers have access to aspirational goals for the future
- To ensure that staff recognise that flexibility may be needed when responding to the needs of carer

We recognise that many children will have caring responsibilities at some point during their lives, and that these responsibilities can impact a child's performance in any area of the curriculum. Therefore, a whole school commitment is necessary.

At Avonwood, we believe that high standards and expectations of all are vital to personal and academic progress for all children, including those with caring responsibilities. Therefore, additional provision for young carers is balanced with appropriate challenge to reach longer term outcomes. The importance of enhancing positive self-esteem is also recognised, which allows opportunities for increased engagement, social development and achievement.

We also understand the importance of keeping up to date with advice, publications and research regarding provision for young carers, and therefore this document is subject to review annually.

EQUALITY AND DISCRIMINATION

At Avonwood, we aim to make reasonable steps to ensure that young carers are not placed at a substantial disadvantage when compared to other children, and to ensure equal educational and social opportunities for all.

We strive to maintain a climate of tolerance, understanding, respect and trust that allows all children and staff irrespective of background or personal circumstances to feel safe and be safe from any form of discrimination or emotional harm. This young carer policy is supported by other policies including our equality policy, PSHE, SMCH, safeguarding and anti-bullying policy which can be viewed separately on our school website.
